GLASS LIFTING EQUIPMENT

Our company has been building glass conservatories , sunrooms and glass roofs for 35 years .

Glass is very heavy and architects and clients are requesting larger panels. Mostly due to cost and difficult site access we have had to use ladders , scaffold and muscle.

Recently in researching lifting equipment we came across JD Power. We were pleased with the compact yet functional glass lifters available . We immediately bought 2 of the CA400 units .

JD Power have loaned us the GRM250 to demonstrate its capabilities.

We would definitely hire a GRM 250 and other specific lifters if they were available for hire . I am sure there are many others like ourselves that could make use of these lifting devices.

Please feel free to call me if you would like a personal testimony of the lifters

Yours Faithfully,
